Summary:
We have completed the back-end integration and the new features are working well. However, we have hit a few issues with the payment gateway. We expect to fix them by the end of the week. From marketing, we are gearing up for the product launch. Let's kick off the promotional campaign next week.

Plan of Action:
- Resolve payment gateway issues by end of the week
- Complete testing of new features and security by next week
- Conduct design review before product launch
- Allocate time for regression testing after updates
- Kick off promotional campaign next week
